about us

Hi! We are Aaron and Hannah, born and raised in New York and now living in Illinois. We are fun and caring with a good sense of humor and happily married for over ten years. Aaron is an officer in the Coast Guard, and Hannah is an art teacher. Both of our careers revolve around helping others. Aaron helps to make sure people are safe when they go on a boat, and Hannah helps to teach and grow her students into young adults. In our free time, we pursue our hobbies. Hannah enjoys crafting and baking, and Aaron loves to play chess, roast coffee, and play sports. Our favorite thing to do is getting together for family gatherings and hosting friends over at our house for dinner parties and game nights.

our home & pets

We live in a beautiful ranch in the suburbs of a city. We have an expansive backyard and a beautiful deck to spend the warm months enjoying the sun. We have three small, loving dogs who thoroughly enjoy the yard. Mikey loves to play fetch, Scooter loves to get petted, and Stevie gives plenty of kisses. When our friends visit, their children can be found playing toys with the pups and giving endless belly rubs. It's encouraging us to see how much our fur babies like kids. Our community has everything you can want, from cute little towns, shopping centers, stores, outdoor activities, and top-notch schools. Downtown is a short trip with its many museums, restaurants, and riverfront walk.

what led us to adoption

Though we are unable to have biological children, we feel God leading us to start our family. We have been blessed and want to share our blessings with our future children. We have waited until we are at a point in our lives where we are financially and emotionally stable to start this journey, and we feel that the time is now. Throughout our lives, there have been many families we've known who were blessed to be part of adoption. Little did we know it would be in our future! We have many connections we have reached out to leading up to this decision.

our FAMILY and traditions

We were high school sweethearts back in NY, where both of our families still live a short distance away from each other. We love to spend time with both sides of the family, and our families even join together for parties. Whether visiting them or having them at our house, we try to see each other as often as we can. Visiting together is always filled with fun spending time together, eating delicious food, playing games, and watching the dogs play as both of our families also have small pups.

Aaron has three siblings, and Hannah has one. We always spend Thanksgiving and Christmas together having both sides over for a big Christmas Eve feast, including Italian seafood. Other traditions we enjoy while visiting NY are Aaron fishing with his dad and Hannah and her family enjoying the beach. We all meet up afterward to get some seafood at a waterfront restaurant.

DEAR expectant mother

To A Loving Mother,

We can only imagine what you are thinking and feeling physically and emotionally. We are in awe of your strength and selflessness as you consider what's best for you and your precious baby. We are grateful you are taking the time to get to know a little about us and hopefully consider us to love, nurture, protect, and raise your beautiful baby.

We continue to pray you will feel loved and supported through this hard time. We would be honored to support you and walk alongside you through this journey at any level you're comfortable with, should you bless us with this gift.

We would love nothing more than to welcome your child into our family and will afford all the opportunities for a purposeful and happy life full of love and meaning. Your child will spend time with our family and friends at game nights, barbecues, and holiday gatherings. They will be part of our tight-knit community. At home, they will be found doing arts and crafts, baking, cooking with Hannah, or playing sports in the yard and even conducting science experiments with Aaron. Most of all, we want your child to know they will always be loved.

We are very thankful for you and your role in your baby's new life, and we are grateful for you considering making our dream of becoming parents come true.

With Love,

AARON & HANNAH
