ABOUT ME

Hi there! I'm Tiffany. I enjoy hanging out with my family and friends and am known for being easy-going. My loved ones often describe me as reliable and dependable, which might come from being the oldest child and grandchild in my family. I strive to set a good example and am always ready to lend a hand to those in need. I work in education and find great joy in interacting with kids. As a middle school assistant principal, I get to engage with students from diverse backgrounds. Before stepping into this role, I was a classroom teacher and also coached basketball and volleyball. I'm passionate about my career and thrilled to positively impact young lives each day. In my free time, I enjoy attending sporting events, watching movies, and traveling with my family.

MY HOME

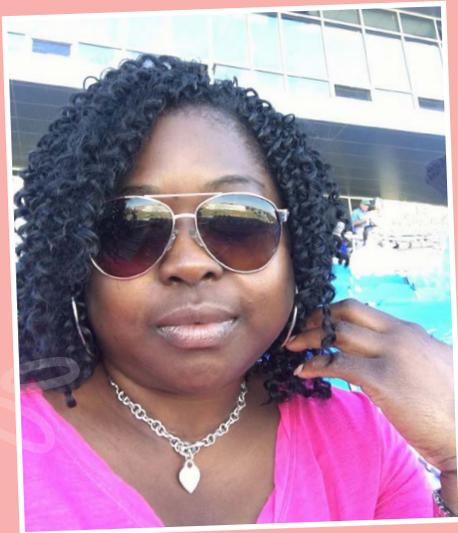

I live in a quiet suburban community not far from restaurants, shops, and a county park with various water activities. I'm about 30 minutes from the city center, where there are a variety of entertainment opportunities. I love going to the movies or sitting in the living room watching movies at home. I live close to three different school districts and have the option to choose which school my child will attend. Since I'm in the educational system, I know which schools are the best.

WHAT LED ME TO ADOPTION

I've always dreamed of becoming a mom and waited for the right moment to start a family. My plan was to complete my college education and establish a stable relationship before settling down. I earned my master's degree while working as a teacher, and once that was accomplished, my focus shifted to starting a family with my partner. Despite our efforts and trying IVF, we faced challenges and were unsuccessful. In my work at schools, I frequently meet adoptive parents, which sparked my interest in adoption. I also had the chance to talk with friends who have adopted and learned about their experiences. Inspired by these conversations and driven by my dream of becoming a parent, I decided to embark on the adoption journey.

MY FAMILY + TRADITIONS

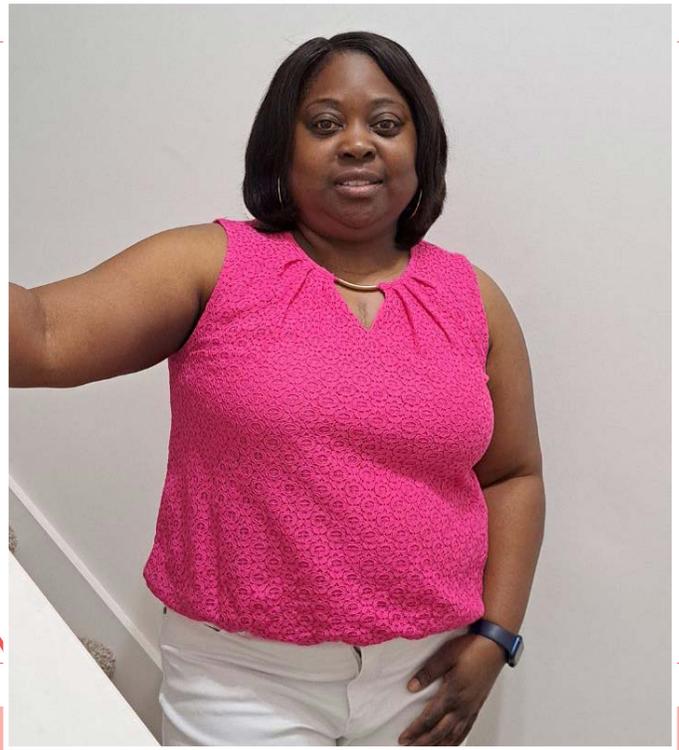

I'm very close to my family, and we all live fairly near each other. I'm the oldest of three siblings. My sister and brother are just 20-30 minutes away, and my parents, who recently celebrated their 48th anniversary, live about 15 minutes from me. We make it a point to visit each other regularly and talk every day. My mom comes from a large family, so we often plan trips together around the school calendar to ensure the kids can join in.

We celebrate all major holidays together and take turns hosting the big meals. On Christmas mornings, we enjoy Breakfast at Tiffany's in our pajamas and open gifts as a family.

I also have a close-knit group of friends who have been together for about 15 years. We began our teaching careers simultaneously and have supported each other through the years. We consider ourselves a family and are always there for one another.

DEAR EXPECTANT MOTHER

Thank you for taking the time to read through my profile. I know the words may blur as you read through each profile, but I want you to know I am grateful to be a part of your story. I know this is a difficult decision for you to make, so please know I take the responsibility of becoming a parent very seriously. If you choose me, please know your child will see and feel the love I have each and every day, not just from me but from my village of family and friends. My extended family lives close and will provide additional support.

Your child will have access to the best educational programs in my area. As an educator, I believe in providing education to all, and knowing what I know, it is important to start early. I will also do my best to provide them with what they need to follow whatever dream they have. I will share the values I was taught growing up, like respect, gratitude, compassion, and integrity. I believe in the power of prayer and pray God gives you peace as you make a difficult decision for the wellbeing of your child. I appreciate your bravery and thank you again for the opportunity to show your child the love I know you have for them.

With love and admiration,

TIFFANY
