OUR LOVE STORY

Our love story may seem unconventional as we met in 2020 on a dating app. Conversation seemed to just come naturally for us, along with our common interests in family, friends, football, and the beach. We spent a lot of time talking on FaceTime prior to meeting in person. Our first date and meet-up was at Jason's home as the world was shut down at that time. From the moment we met in person, we both knew that we would spend forever together. Six months later, we were engaged, and we married on our one-year dating anniversary.

We have had many adventures together, from beaching, boating, kayaking, tailgating, and tubing on the river, with many more adventures ahead. We have also experienced loss as we lost Amy's mother three months after we were married and then suffered a miscarriage six months later. During all of our fun adventures and sadness, we have remained steadfast in our commitment to one another.

OUR HOME & NEIGHBORHOOD

We live in a small town in northwest Georgia and have two dogs. Gus is a Yorkie/dachshund mix, and Abbie is a white golden retriever. Our home is a beautiful three-bedroom and two-bathroom "farmhouse chic" ranch-style home. We have a backyard oasis with a covered patio, fairy lights that outline three different sitting areas, and a fire pit. Amy's father and grandmother live across the street from our home. Our neighborhood is close to all the places important to our daily life, such as a two-minute drive to church, a community park that we can see from our front yard, and schools all within a five-to-eight-minute drive. We enjoy being close to everything in our small town and the convenience of having family nearby.

We absolutely love the beach and tubing on the river! Most of our adventures take us to the beach, which is a place of peace, fun, and relaxation for both of us. Amy enjoys searching for seashells while Jason kicks back and listens to music. Whether we're with friends and family or simply enjoying time together, we cherish every moment.

One of our most memorable adventures was a river tubing trip with friends. It turned into an unforgettable experience because many of us fell out of our tubes, got stuck on rocks, floated into bushes, and scrambled to help each other at the river exit. It was definitely chaotic, hilarious, and filled with laughter—a day we'll never forget.

our family

AND FRIENDS

We love spending time with our family and friends. Amy's immediate and extended family all live within 25 minutes of each other, making it easy to gather often. Jason's parents live about an hour away, while his sister and her family are three hours away in Tennessee. He also has extended family in Florida.

Fall Saturdays are some of our favorite days as we enjoy cheering on the Georgia Bulldogs with our loved ones, whether we're relaxing on our patio or tailgating in Athens for our annual gathering with friends.

We're fortunate to have a very supportive circle of family and friends who are involved in our daily lives. Celebrating birthdays, holidays, and spontaneous travel adventures together is something we truly cherish. These connections are not just part of our life — they are a foundational part of who we are.

our letter

TO YOU

We will never be able to fully understand the amount of bravery, strength, and selflessness it takes to walk through the journey of choosing the perfect family for your precious baby. We deeply respect your decision, made with love and sacrifice, and we know that it is not one taken lightly. Our hearts are full of gratitude for the trust you place in us.

For years, we have prayed for God to bless us with a child. Amy lost her mother just three months after we married and suffered a miscarriage six months later. We've been through countless doctors appointments, extensive testing, and heartache, only to be told time and time again, "We don't know why this is happening; your only option is IVF." Infertility is something that a woman can never truly prepare for — the one thing you should be able to do is taken from you. Jason and I struggled during what was supposed to be the joyful honeymoon phase of our marriage. But through all these trials and tribulations, God has worked in our hearts, drawing us closer together as a couple and reminding us that He is in control of our future.

We want you to know that we are here to offer hope and encouragement. We are ready to provide a loving home full of warmth, fun, laughter, and faith. We are waiting with open hearts to begin our journey into parenthood. Your child will always feel loved, supported, and guided, and we promise to keep their story alive forever.

With love and many blessings,

Jason and Amy
