ABOUT US

We love to cook and try new recipes. We love to travel, and we like to go to different places every vacation so we can experience new things. Our favorite trip so far was traveling to Italy for our honeymoon and exploring so many historical sites. We love sports, even though we have rivalry teams; we used this as a fun banter when we first met. We are very social, and we love going out with friends or having people over for a game night. We also enjoy our quiet nights watching a movie in the media room. While we have many common interests, our jobs couldn't be more different. One of us works in the baby/healthcare industry selling products to make parents' lives easier. The other spends the day helping people get their dream homes.

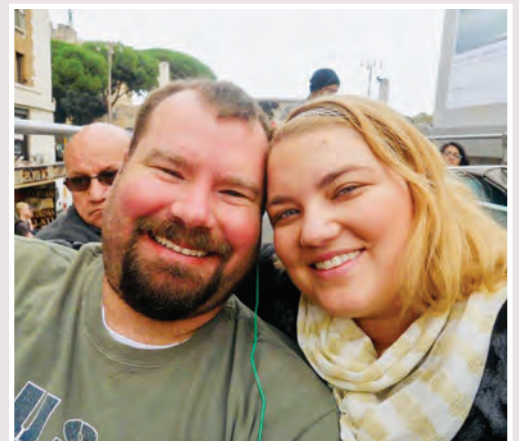

OUR HOME & PETS

We just recently moved into our newly built home in Texas. We built this home with the idea of raising a family in it and look forward to filling it. We love the new neighborhood and the amenities and family activities it offers. We like our neighbors and know quite a few of them already. One of the reasons we chose this lot was because there is a park across the street and our parents live in the house behind us, so we have them close by if ever needed. The elementary school is within walking distance. Our miniature schnauzer, Zeus, loves the new house and the backyard, "Zeusland."

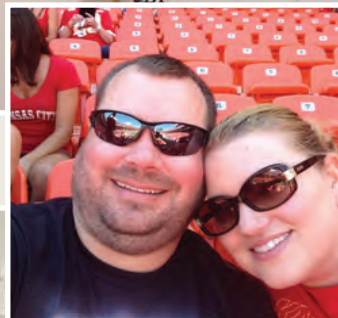

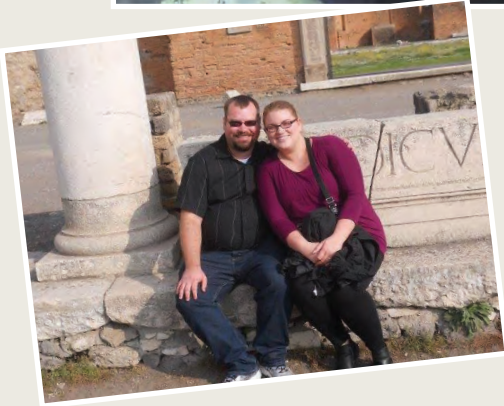

WHAT LED US TO ADOPTION

From the day we met, we knew we wanted to be parents, and adoption was always at the top of our minds. After years of trying to get pregnant, we are still looking to extend our family. We tried fostering first, but the goodbye was too hard for us. Our hearts and home feel empty, and we look forward to filling both through adoption and getting our family started.

OUR family + friends

Between the two of us, we have five brothers. Four of the five are now married and have or are having children, so the family is growing as we speak. We speak to each of them at least weekly, if not more. We love having Thanksgiving at our house and have the whole family over; it usually turns into a full weekend with them. We love to play games when everybody is here. Euchre is the family favorite and is now closely followed by Ticket to Ride. We both have large extended families that are spread throughout the U.S.

We grew up being taught how important family is, and we both look forward to instilling that in our children. One of our favorite things to do is to have our oldest niece stay the night; we'll take her shopping and out to eat, and then we'll head back to the house to watch a movie in our media room and make popcorn.

Dear
EXPECTANT MOTHER

To A Loving Mother,

Thank you for considering us and making the hardest decision of your life. We know and understand this will be the most difficult and painful decision, and we want to support you in any way possible. Our dream is that we become an extended part of your family, as you will be part of ours. There are never too many people to love a child, and we know the love you already feel for this baby.

To be able to bring a child into this world is an incredible gift, and then being able to give someone else the gift of being parents is brave and extremely selfless. We will never be able to thank you enough for what you are considering giving to us.

Warmly,

Sean and Lyndsey
