ABOUT US

We are Josh and Cyndi from Texas. We met in July of 2019 while we were both living and working in North Dakota. We happened to live in the same apartment building, and when Cyndi would see Josh coming and going, she would tell her dog, "There's Mr. Yummy." Josh is the more laid-back type, and Cyndi has more of a quirkiness about her. She is the yin to his yang. We started talking one day and realized we both have a passion for the same industry, which is both of our careers. Josh proposed on Christmas Eve 2019, so we married in July 2022. When we aren't working, we love camping, fishing, and exploring different foods. Josh's hobby is working out, along with sports, and Cyndi's passion is cooking and sightseeing. Any free time we have, we love spending it together.

OUR HOME & PETS

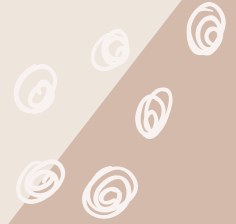

Our city has so much to offer families, like the enriched Texas history, indoor/outdoor activities for all ages, and a great education. The best part about our city is when we go to the drive-in movie theater. We have four amazing dogs (Shadow, Bo, Kovo, and Sprocket) and one cat (Payette), and yes, all of them are spoiled. Anytime the weather is nice, we spend our time outside with our fur babies playing. Our neighborhood is quiet and family friendly with kids of all ages. Our three-bedroom home is cozy with a nice backyard that's perfect for a growing family.

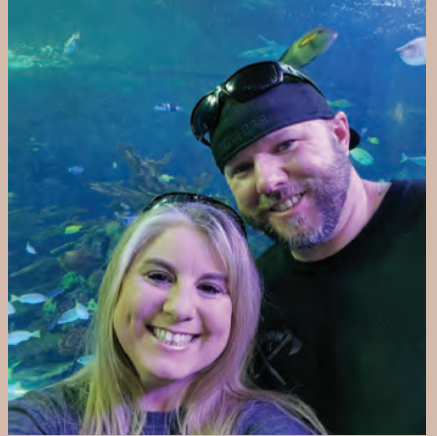

WHAT LED US TO ADOPTION

Josh has always wanted a child to show the same love he was raised with. He finally met a woman who was excited to share that dream with him. Cyndi is an amazing mother to her three grown boys, but unfortunately we aren't able to have a biological child due to fertility issues. The fertility doctor brought up adoption, and there was no hesitation; we immediately started our research. We feel now is the perfect time. We are in a stable place physically, emotionally, and financially to provide the perfect home for a baby. We are so excited to be here!

OUR FAMILY & TRADITIONS

Josh has a pretty small family, but they are very close and family oriented. Cyndi's parents and sister passed away a few years ago, but she is very close to her in-laws, just as if they were her own parents. Cyndi's boys are excited for the new addition to our family and live only four hours away; Josh's brother is five hours away. Josh's family is super excited as this will be their first grandbaby to spoil. All our coworkers and our bosses are supportive and excited for us too; they are an amazing extension of our family.

We love to go visit Josh's family in Louisiana as much as possible, but the holidays are the best! His dad dresses up as Santa for a local center, and he also makes Christmas balls we love to help with. We set up a booth at the same local center with Josh's mom and sell Christmas balls while Josh's dad plays Santa for all the kids. We would love to add a little elf to help share this fun tradition.

DEAR EXPECTANT MOTHER,

We are so blessed and thankful for being considered in this journey. There's no way for us to truly know how you might be feeling, but we understand that it takes a strong person with incredible courage, selflessness, and so much love to make this decision. We admire your strength and your love for your child through this adoption journey.

If you chose us, your baby will be raised with so much unconditional love. We think it's important to have family values and to learn as a family. Your baby will know about you, your family, and their history to any extent you're comfortable with. We will teach them about their culture and why they are such a special person in our lives. If you choose us, your baby will be raised taking adventures, enjoying camping trips and nature hikes, making fun memories to share, and having fun times in the kitchen and during family time. No matter what obstacles may come, we will always be there to guide your child through life and encourage them to know they can achieve anything and will always have support from family and loved ones.

We want you to know that whatever decision you choose, it will be the right one, and we will support you on the type of adoption you choose. We would be ecstatic if you chose us to love your baby, and they will know you loved them so much through their whole life. We sincerely thank you for considering us as parents for your child.

WITH LOVE,

JOSH & CYNDI
