about us

We are a loving Christian family from Pennsylvania looking to adopt a little girl to complete our family. We have two boys and are unable to have more children, and the boys would love a baby sister! Michael works in IT programming. Megan was teaching English and spent two years in autistic support, but she is now a stay-at-home mom since having our boys. We love our little goat farm, dog Lucy, and cat Calie. We love camping with our extended families and exploring the outdoors as well as movie nights on the couch! We love spending time with grammies and papas and our cousins with tons of family time! We also venture out and do some four-wheeling and snowmobiling from time to time with the family.

our home + pets

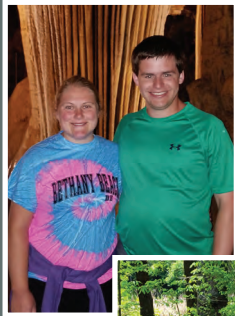

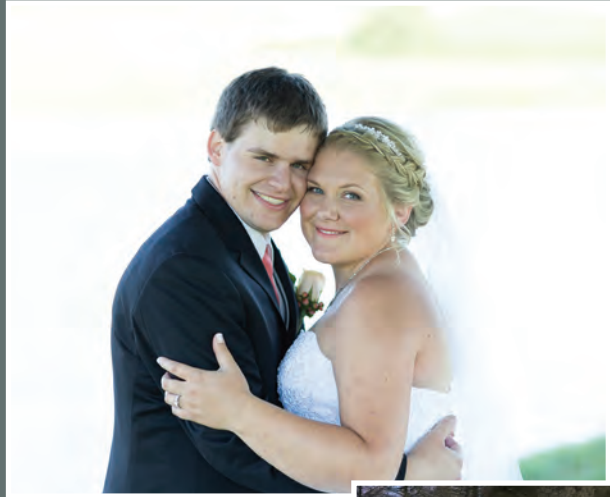

Our home is in a country setting surrounded by farms. It is a nice, quiet location with land for our pet goats and plenty of room for our dog, Lucy, to run. There are families who live nearby with kids to play with. Our kids go swimming and have playdates with the neighbor kids. We have an indoor cat who is very friendly. Our town has a yearly farm show with lots of animals to see and good food and activities. There are also plenty of parks to go play at.

what led us to adoption

Both of our pregnancies were interesting, and our second son's entire pregnancy was nothing short of eventful. We always said we hoped to have four children, but God had different plans. Unfortunately, we are unable to have any more babies, but we have been pondering and researching adoption. We would like to adopt a baby girl to complete our family. We have work friends and church family who have had great experiences with adoption and have been very supportive in helping us get started with the process.

Both of our families get along really well and get together often. For example, we like to go camping together, and we share holiday gatherings as well.

Megan has one brother, who is married, and they have two little boys. Her extended family consists of two living grandparents, eight aunts and uncles, and six cousins. A few of our cousins have kids of their own, now making five additional little cousins. We have a great relationship with them and see them often for holidays, game nights, family reunions, and trips to the family cabin.

Michael is an only child. His extended family consists of grandparents/step-grandparents, ten aunt and uncles, and twelve cousins. A few of the cousins have their own kids now, making six additional little cousins. We have a great relationship with everyone and see each other often, including holidays, beach trips, and other get-togethers.

To A Loving Mother,

We know the decision you are facing is hard, and we are grateful you are considering us to be the parents of your child. You are probably overwhelmed with many possible families and the lifestyle you wish for your baby. We want you to know your baby would be so loved in our family and have so many opportunities in life. We have been dreaming of growing our family for so long and would love the opportunity to bring your baby into our home. We can't wait to watch every milestone.

We pray for an easy decision and smooth process for you during this time. We understand there are so many emotions involved and hope everything feels right to you. We, too, are experiencing many emotions as we navigate this journey and can't wait for your baby to experience our traditions, family activities like camping, and playing with all our animals. Both sets of grandparents are always around and love seeing their grandkids often. We are a close-knit family and share many positive values and love. We want you to feel confident in choosing our family and hope the decision is a comfort to you. We are very excited and hopeful to be chosen by you!

With Love,

michael + megan
